

READ: This is a huge topic to cover thoroughly and responsibly, but we'll try to gain a quick understanding of this event through this exercise. Please skim as many of the readings as possible and follow directions carefully. The goal is not to finish quickly, but to LEARN and to THINK at some length about what you'll be reading. This is NOT PARTNER WORK - you need to work through these materials on your own, because the information you'll be reading today will affect each of you differently. It takes a great deal of reading and time to understand what went on during the Nazi era: how did Hitler gain power, why were the Jews and other groups the target of the Nazis, how did the killing begin, what went on during the war, what have we learned since then and how has Germany dealt with its past and made changes. Consider this the first small step on your way to learning more and developing the ability to discuss these issues intelligently, respectfully, responsibly. Please keep in mind that this is ancient history for German kids your age but German schools are also required to by law to teach about the Holocaust. The past is always present.
